... involves configuring subscriber unit to operate in interaction mode

with service provider as selected by brokering agent

Abstract (Basic):

... The method involves obtaining a set of available wireless services that includes information for a brokering agent. The agent offers a list of service providers that satisfies criteria related to the service. A subscription relationship is established with a selected service provider. The subscriber unit is configured to operate in a mode that supports interaction with service provider.

... The method provides a user with greater flexibility in selecting wireless services. The brokering agent decreases the costs and increases convenience, thereby enhancing user experience...

Detailed Description

English Abstract

An online broker that enables an applicant to apply online for multiple credit products from multiple credit providers. At pre-determined points in the application process, the application data is subjected to a progressive cumulative filtering. When and if application data passes the filtering, the online broker performs an underwriting evaluation and prepares a list of qualified credit options for the applicant (4). The applicant chooses an option and the online broker sends the application to the provider identified by the chosen credit option (7).

Detailed Description

... invention, which will be understood by reading and studying the following specification.

An online broker offering multiple credit products from multiple credit providers collects application data from an applicant through a computer network. The data is received in one or more parts, and the broker performs a progressive cumulative filtering at predetermined points as these parts are received. If the...

...credit products offered, or the data indicates the likelihood of a fraudulent application, the online broker sends a rejection message as soon as the data is evaluated and terminates the application...

...without collecting any fin-ther data. Assuming the applicant is not filtered out, the online broker performs a credit evaluation on the application and prepares a list of credit options (Le...affecting the scope of the invention.

Conclusion

An online broker that enables an applicant to apply online for multiple credit products from multiple credit providers has been described. The present invention allows local decisioning in that the broker has underwriting...

... message to a wider audience where fewer recipients are truly interested in the information. Within Agent System 10, targeting consumers is a process of targeting Personal Agents 12 that represent consumers that satisfy the desired criteria. Providers use the targeting process, for...

...to consumers that have previously searched in a particular Market 18 or for a particular product. Providers may also use targeting to offer a product at a different price to a different groups of consumers.
Providers might also send market surveys, brand name awareness notices, etc.

Providers can also target consumers...

... broker only gets paid if they deliver a loan that fits their underwriting standards

The brokers claim that in addition to bringing efficiencies to the origination process, they can offer their customers a wide range of loan products from several wholesalers, as opposed to one product line offered by most retail lenders.

If brokers have a hard time explaining their case, it is...

Are We Losing Our Independence?

(The independent broker-dealer industry, which focuses on building relationships with customers and providing to them the most appropriate investment products, is undergoing massive change as producers buy them up to provide distribution channels for their proprietary products)

Defining Independence

With several IBDs being acquired by product manufacturers, it is important to define the characteristics of an independent representative.

"An independent is an...
